

Advanced Facilitation Skills

1 DAY WORKSHOP

So you know the difference between world café and station rounds, and you've seen your fair share of butcher paper, but how do you take your facilitation deeper?

The Advanced Facilitation course explores the role of the facilitator beyond tools and techniques, and focuses on honing your ability to 'read' a group and know which intervention to use when. It's a deep dive into what makes people tick and how the facilitator can support group discussion, collaboration and decision making.

The first course was about building your confidence through stocking the tool kit with different techniques. This course draw on over 30 years of experience across a diverse range of sectors and settings and goes to the next level. This will build your ability to stay present with a group and offer the one thing they need more than ever... the whole and real YOU.

This course will:

- Explore how facilitators maintain their neutrality with groups where there is conflict
- Identify how to respond in the moment to the challenges that may arise
- Practise the ability to read a group and make calls about what interventions to make
- Introduce ways to build a more deliberative approach
- Introduce ways to bridge divides and take groups into deeper conversation

Workshop Facilitator | Joel Levin

Joel Levin is the principal consultant at Aha! Consulting and has over 20 years' experience working with or in a range of sectors (Indigenous, Human Services, Planning, State Government, CALD, Environment, Commerce, Sports and Recreation, Education, Local Government, Utilities, Waste Management, Arts, Aged Care, Health, Disabilities and Justice).

Working with corporates, government and community organisations alike, Joel's engagement and facilitation skills have seen the work of Aha! Consulting expand across Australia and Internationally.

Joel is an IAP2 accredited trainer and ambassador.

Booking and information

Ph (08) 9443 9474 • admin@ahaconsulting.net.au • www.ahaconsulting.net.au