Getting the most from online meetings

With the growing prospect of meetings and workshops going online, Aha! Consulting is offering a webinar on making the most from online engagement and online meetings.

This webinar will explore:

- How to bring the benefits of a facilitated approach to online meetings
- Tools that make online meetings engaging, collaborative and productive
- The technical considerations for getting the most from online meetings

We've been running online meetings for years now and with a few simple steps, they can be real and virtual at the same time!

Duration: 1.5 hours | Location: Online of course! (zoom)

Public and inhouse training available
